

The Snow Queen

Once there was an evil snow queen who met a boy out walking.

She kidnapped the boy and went to her ice castle, far away. The boy never returned.

His sister went looking for him.

As a gift she gave the river her red shoes and asked for help to find her brother. The river accepted her shoes and gave her a small log boat.

She met an old woman and asked "Have you seen my brother"? The woman answered "Ask the flowers in my garden. They know everything".

The girl asked the flowers "Have you seen my brother"? The flowers answered "We saw him in the evil snow queen's sled. She took him to her ice castle."

The girl trudged through the snow. It was a long hard trip.

But she fainted because she was very tired and had not eaten in three days.

A young boy found her and brought her inside and gave her hot soup. The girl asked the boy "Have you seen my brother"? The boy answered "I saw him in the evil snow queen's sled. She took him to her ice castle. It is not far from here."

When she was warm and rested the boy gave her warm clothes and a reindeer. He told her the way to the evil snow queen's castle.

Soon, the girl arrived at the castle. It was immense and made of shimmering ice. She met the snow queen.

The girl demanded the queen give back her brother.

The evil snow queen laughed and ordered her flying snowmen to attack.

But three snow angels came to the rescue. They battled the snow men with swords

The angels defeated the flying snowmen and captured the evil queen and took her to heaven to be punished

In the ice castle, the girl found her brother and many others frozen and trapped in ice.

She began to cry.

Her tears melted the ice. Everyone was free and alive.

The girl and her brother left the ice castle, never to return. They lived happily ever after.
